QUESTIONS TO HELP YOU

- How would my best friend/hero/someone who is confident respond?
- If I knew everything would work out, how would my view change?
- What can I learn from this?
- When have I handled something like this before?
- What thought would get me closer to my goals?
- What other angles have I not considered yet?

Core Confidence Skill #2: Internalize Your Achievements

Core Confidence Skill #3: Accept, don't deflect, praise

What was it like to sit with the compliment instead of respond right away?

How is this different from how you normally respond?

Break free from self-doubt so you can find the confidence to emotionally and professionally thrive.

FROM THE OUTSIDE, IT SEEMS LIKE YOU HAVE IT ALL.

A great job, an upward career trajectory, a steady stream of accomplishments.

But on the inside... Something feels “off”.

- You're constantly stressed and anxious, unable to "turn off" after you leave the office.
- You struggle to say no, often take on too much, and find it hard to set boundaries and avoid people-pleasing.
- You worry that you're not good enough, and Impostor Syndrome holds you back from speaking up and taking initiative.
- You feel emotionally fragile, and every criticism and setback sends you down a negative spiral.

You're not alone in feeling this way. Sensitive Strivers – smart, sensitive high-achievers like you and me – often do.

Emotional intelligence and ambition are the hallmarks of a powerhouse performer. But if left unchecked, they can also fuel stress and self-doubt and keep you from fully enjoying your success. That's where coaching comes in.

You can, and will, enjoy success without stress. I'm here to help you get there!
